Harry McEwan and Albert Milburn
Drowned in Hamilton Bay.
A despatch from Hamilton says:
A double drowning accident occurred in Hamilton Bay, near the Beach, on Saturday afternoon, in which Harry McEwan, 478 York street, and Albert Milburn, 142 Main street west, lost their lives through falling out of a gasoline launch. How the accident happened is a matter of conjecture, as David McEwan, who was with them neither saw nor knew of it until blocked back and saw the head of one man rise above the surface the last time. It is thought, however, that the two who were drowned were pumping water out of the stern of the boat, and in leaning too far over the gunwale, lost their balance. The survivor was steering the boat in the bow, and heard no outcry, but states that as the engine was between them and him, its noise would have shut out the sound of their voices if they did, cry out when they fell over the side.

"Aunt Beeky" Ate Onions Twice a Day, and Died at 115.

A despatch from Cleveland, Ohio, says: Mrs. Rebecca Burns, better known as "Aunt Becky," died at her home near Bellefontaine, Ohio, on Monday, aged one hundred and fifteen years. She attributed her longevity to the fact that she ate conions twice daily. She began this diet when a girl and never gave it up. To within a day or two of her death she insisted on being served with them. Mrs. Burns was born in Northampton, N.C. She often told of seeing George Washington when she was a little girl.

BRITAIN'S NAVAL STANDARD

British Premier Says Everything Will Depend on Geographical Conditions.

A despatch from London says:
In the House of Commons on Wednesday night the Premier definitely laid down the view of the British Government in regard to the question as to whether the United States should be considered in determining the British two-power naval standard. Mr. Asquith said a great deal of nonsense had been talked about the two-power standard. It was nothing more than a purely empirican generalization. He agreed that the range of British is vision should not be limited to Europe, but, on the other hand, then considering the combined effective strength of any other two purposes one must have regard to geographical position.

The idea is not a new one, towns and cities all over North America have tried it and found no results tending to the detriment of physical, moral, mental or commercial conditions. In our own vicinity Campbellford, Trenton, Belleville and Havelock have accepted it as a custom, and is Stirling, the centre of the district, going to be the last to move? Is there no one who will take the responsibility of getting the feeling of the business men in this matter?

"LAKE OF BAYS" COUNTRY.

A handsome brochure, artistically illustrated, has been issued by the passenger department of the Grand Trunk Railway System, telling of the beauties of the Lake of Bays district, in the "Highlands of Ontario." A new feature of this district is the new hotel—the Wawa—at Norway Point. The hotel itself has a page illustration reflecting the summer glories of woodland and water, with a brood of seven wild geese soaring skyward beyond the tower. The concise description embodies the story of a charming resort.

A Medical Need Supplied.—When a medicine is found that not only acts upon the stomach, but is so composed that certain ingredients of it pass unaltered through the stomach to find action in the bowels, then there is available a purgative and a cleanser of great effectiveness. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are of this character and are the best of all pills. During the years that they have been in use they have established themselves as no other pill has done.

'I wish you would give me that gold ring on your finegr,' said a village dandy to a country girl, 'for it resembles the duration of my love for you—it has no ending.'' 'Excuse me, sir; I choose to keep it as emblematic of my love for you—it has no beginning.''

ANIMALS APPOINT SENTINELS.

ANIMALS APPOINT SENTINELS.

It is well known that many animals appoint one or more of their number to act as sentinels to guard against surprise while the rest are asleep, or feeding, or at play. Among the animals—using the word in its widest sense—that are thus prudent may be named the following: Wayse, ants, chamois and other antelopes, prairie-dogs, wild horses, rooks, swans, Australian cockatoos, zebras, qualls, certain monkeys, flamingoes, New Zealand silver-eyes, shags and other birds, marmots, mouffon and other sheep, esals, African wild cattle, huancoes, elephants, etc.

SOUND REASONING

An old sea captain was visiting a certain exhibition, and was greatly interested in the mechanical section, where a fine array of steam whistles was on show.

"How far can that one be heard?" he asked, pointing to a huge "buzzer."

The young man in attendance was only a deputy, but he promptly replied, "Sixteen miles."

"Sixteen miles?" said the old salt incredulously.

"When I say sixteen miles," elaborated the youth, "I mean eight miles this way and eight miles that way."

WHAT BIRDS ARE WORTH.

chine Ever Invented.

An English farmer with a taste for statistics has made a calculation of the value of the forest bird to the farmer ama gardener.

He computes that on the average cach bird nest contains about five fledglings, and that during the period of four to six weeks, when the young birds are fed by their parents, each nestling consumes about fity worms, flies, or other insects every day. Now, suppose that the consumption lasts a month. During that time one 'prood will eat about 7,500 insects.

worms, hies, or other insects every day. Now, suppose that the consumption lasts a month. During that time one 'rrood will eat about 7,500 insects.

Suppose that each insect destroys during its naural life only one apple, pear, peach, or plum, and from the suppose that each insect destroys during its naural life only one apple, pear, peach, or plum, and fruits by labors of one pair of parent birds. This estimate he considers very moderate for there are some insects, each one of which does a great deal more damage than he estimates. One small, or or example, causes the florista great loss every year by piercing the young buds of the florista great loss every year by piercing the young buds of the chrysanthemum, and thus causing the flowers to come deformed and worthiess. One of these flies has been known to bore into sixty chrysanthemum buds in a single day, and thus cause the florist a floss of $25 to $20. By protecting the bird nests and eggs the ravages of insects would not indeed be stopped, but they might be lesseaned in such a degree as would greatly increase the income of the farmer and gardener, for, as insect destroyers, a robin is superior to the best spraying machine ever invented, and what is more to the purpose, they work without pay, begin before the sun is up, and keep on until dark.

"The sea elephant has large eyes, surmounted by huge brows. Its forward flippers, two in number, are armed with five nails each, but the aft flippers have not even rudimentary nails. The animal when on shore moves with a hobbling, rolling motion, its whole body quivering like jelly, but it navigates the water with almost the agility of an eol. It feeds on cuttlefish and mollusks.

"When you stop to think that the cuttlefish of tropical waters sometimes attains a weight of two tons you will realize the prowess of the sea elephant and the strength of its jaws.

"Having feasted for many months upon these grim delicacies of the deep, the bull elephants hobble out onto the beaches and in the mating season engage in fierce battles.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Any one who visits a lunatic asyum for a few hours where he hears lesporate shricking, imagines he as come to a place of suffering. Under the time he agrees that only there an be met a type of happiness so rolonged and so complete as to fer the key to the condition of that is so extremely fleeting in ormal beings, writes Prof. Cesare ombroso. The idiot first boasts of a physical qualities and capabiliary of the condition of the property of the condition of the mess, but all of a sudden they collapse.

Tasso and Cardano wished it inferred that they were inspired by God. Mohammed avowed openly that he actually was. Any criticism of their opinions they looked upon as extreme persecution. Newton was said to have been murderously infuriated against his scientific contradictors. The poet Lucius would not rise when Julius Caesar entered the assembly of poets because he considered himself the better versifier. The princess do Continion forming Malherbe that she would show him the most beautiful verses fit. the world he said: "Excuss me, I have already seen them, because if, as you say, they are better than any others, I must have written them myself." Victor Hugo was governed by the obsession of being not only the greatest of all poets but the greatest of all men of all countries of all ages.

One might suppose that all of these, in their imagined grantess, would be the happiest of men. However, this is by no means the case, for the worm of the persecution idea gnaws at the most roseate visions of geniuses, as if they were actual maniacs. It is almost proverbial, this tendency to melancholy among most thinkers. Just because their sight reaches farther than the ordinary, and because occupied with too sublime flights, they have not commonplace habits of mind, and because, like idiots and unlike people of mere talent, they are frequently mubalanced. Therefore, to acquire such habits as while strengthen and therefore, to acquire such habits as which habits as which his the clay which, by control the ordinary actions of life. Geniuses indeed enjoy moments of supernal felicity. These are the moments of creative frenzy which in so many respects resemble the psychic excesses of epileptics only, since not an ordinary brain is being agitated by convulsions, but a great mind, and instead of some atrocious bestiatility or dark crime there results a work of lofty character. Beaconsfield wrote that he felt as it there were but a step from intense mental concentration to madness. He said he could hardly describe what he felt in the moments when his sensations were abnormally acute and intense, that everything about him seemed to be alive, that he seemed to be raving and was scarcely certain that he really existed.

CONSCRIPTS NOT HEROES.

Would be Out of Sight, But in Danger, in Case of War?

Mr. Haldane, the British Minister of War, gave utterance the other day to a startling forecast of what would probably happen if an enemy ever succeeded in getting a foothold in England.

A short and sharp Act of Parliament would be passed, he opined, which would have the effect of foreing the "slacker" to take up arms in defence of his country. But he would not then be regarded as a hero, nor would he be permitted the privilege of tighting in the front ranks against the invaders. On the contrary, he would probably be relegated to some very inconvenient and unpleasant part of the country, where he would be out of sight without being out of danger, says Pearson's Weekly.

The picture is an unpleasant one, yet it almost certainly represents

Three Boats Swept Down and Badly Damaged at Sault Ste. Marie.

Damaged at Sault Ste. Marie.

A despatch from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., says: On Wednesday afternoon the Canadian Soo locks were practically put out of commission by one of the worst accidents that ever happened in marine circles in the Soo or vicinity. At present the water from Lake Superior is pouring through in a torrent, and it will probably be a month before the locks are again available for marine trade. Three boats, the Assiniboia of the C. P. R. Line; the Perry G. Walker of R. Line; the Perry G. Walker of the Glichrist fleet, and the Crescott City all figured in the accident. The overflow of water throaten to wash out the piers at the foot of the locks. At 2 on Wednesday afternoon the Assiniboia was in the locks, bound down; she was followed by the Crescont City. The locks, bound down; she was followed by the Crescont was entering the canal, and before the sate of the Walker was coming up the river, presumably to lock through on an up trip. Just as the Crescont dist, the Walker crashed into the locks proposed to the Walker was as considerably damaged. The Crescont is now lying on the bot time. The Assiniboia seems to have suffered minor injuries, while the Crescent is now lying on the bot tom. Union of South African Colonies Now Assured.

A despatch from Ottawa says:
The financial statement for May shows the revolue for the three months of the year to have been $13,613,974, which is an increase of more than a million and three-quarter dollars over the collections in the same time the year before. The increase is principally due to enlarged customs collections, which show an increase of over a million dollars during the three months. Excise collections increased by about a hundred thousand dollars, and postoffice reve. ue by the same.

Now Assured.

A despatch from Durham, Natal, says: A referendum held to decide whether or not Natal should join the South African Union has resulted in favor of the juncture by a vote of 11,121 to 3,701. This assured that the complete union of the south African colonies—the Transval, Cape Colony, the Orange River State and Natal. Practically the entire population of Natal is pricise, and the disinclination of a considerable element to enter the union was caused by fear that the confederation would be dominated by the Dutch.

How Those Found in the North Atlantic Are Formed.

The distance covered by an iceberg of the north Atlantic from the time it is formed until it reaches the banks is fully 2,500 miles. It may have been aften for a year, exposed to wide changes of temperature, battered by les soes, possibly other bergs and ceaselessly washed by the waves. Yet some of those seen 2,060 miles south of their starting point are nearly 800 feet in height and truly of majestic proportions, often 1,000 or more feet in length, while it is an established scientific fact that so much more of the bulk is under water than is visible that the largest bergs may extend into the ocean to a depth of over half a mile.

A Frog's Nest.

In Brazil a species of tree frog constructs in the water a curious nest, or fortifications, to protect its eggs and young from the attacks of fish. Starting at the bottom of a pond, the mother frog erects a circular, tubelike wall of mud which at the top projects above the surface of the water. In the water thus inclosed the eggs are Inid, and when they have hatched out the frog's young are secure from enemies until they are able to take care of themselves.

Twenty-five years ago it was difficult to sell spring wheat flour for pastry at any prices

People didn't want it—they were using soft, iter wheat flour, and saw no reason for changing.

But hard wheat flour was persistently pushed. The women tried it and succeeded with it,—to-day hard wheat flour is the favorite for Pastry as well as for Bread.

KEEPING CHILDREN WELL.

Every mother should be able to recognize and cure the minor ills that attack her little ones. Prompt action may prevent serious illness—perhaps save a little life. A simple, safe remedy in the home is therefore a necessity, and for this purpose there is nothing else so good as Baby's Own Tablets. They promptly cure all stomach and bowel troubles, destroy worms, break up colds, make teething easy and keep children healthy and cheerful. Mrs. Jos. Levesque, Casselman, Ont., says:—'I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have always found them satisfactory. My child has grown splendidly and is always good natured since I began using this medicine.'' munication in this part of Germany.

Herr Colsmann concluded by stating that fares for aerial passengers would be somewhat expensive at first, owing to the heavy cost of the upkeep of the airships. The costs would, however, naturally diminish in proportion to the general development of aerial navigation, so that in course of time aerial voyages would no longer be a pastime for the wealthy, but an ordinary means of communication, at any rate for the middle classes.

SICK SKINS IN SUMMER.

Summer is the hardest time for the human, ekin. Its delicate tiny pores, if worked under the best conditions, would have a rough time because of the heat. How when they have to work when impaired or damaged by sunburn and heat spots? No woo.der one has rough patches, frechles, etc. Z² 1-Buk heals sick skins. When a patch of skin on face, neck, or arms is blistered by the sun, apply Zam-Buk at once. It will cool and soothe beautifully, and new skin will be quickly formed. When you are footsore, or have some chafed places, Zam-Buk will give you case. When the mosquitoes raise lumps on you, Zam-Buk will stop that for rible itching and smarting. Keep Zam-Buk handy, use it freely, and this will be the happiest summer once. It will cool and soothe beautifully, and new skin will be quickly formed. er as Well as a Financier.

Never before has England been able to boast of having a Chancellor of the Exchequer who can adorn a pulpit equally as well as he does the Treasury Bench. But Mr. Lloyd George manages to do both. When not engaged in financial problems or in "robbing hen roosts," he is to be heard preaching in his native tongue from the pulpits of many a Weish Bethel.

Several excellent stories connected with the little Weish Chancellor's preaching and fine eloquence have already been circulated, but one that has hitherto escaped publication relates how, preaching one day, he took for his subject the Creator's wisdom and knowledge as to what is best for man, and he exhorted his hearers, instead of rebelling against their lot, to believe in the doctrine that all things work together for good. Mr. Lloyd George wound up his address by saving:

PRISONERS OF WAR.

Friendly Foes That Changed Places as Guests and Hosts.

A cheerful incident of the war between the states is told in "Mission Ridge and Lookout Mountain." The Third Ohlo, under Streight's command, was en route for Richmond, prisoners of war.

One night they camped, worn, famished, with hearts heavy and homeslek, near the place where a Confederate regiment, the Fifty-fourth Virginia, was stationed. Many of the southerners stroided over to the prison camp to see the sorry show of the popr, supperless Yankees.

They, did not stay long. Back to their own camp they hurried and soon returned with kettles of coffee, corn bread, bacon—the best they had and all they had, Presently little fires began to twinkle in the prison camp, and the aroma of coffee rose like a fragrant cloud of thank offering. Union gnests and Confederate hosts mingled. The next morning the prisoners departed.

Now somes a happy sequel which well balances the affair. Lafer, when arted.

Now comes a happy sequel which rell balances the affair. Later, when he prisoners were exchanged, the rhird ohio was encamped near Kelly's erry, on the banks of the Tennessee. In the day of the storming of Misonary ridge among the prisoners taken were numbered the Fifty-fourth results.

To the Pole in a Balloon.

To the Pole in a Balloon.

Walter Wellman, the intrepid Arctic explorer, is expected to sail, in a dirigible, for the North-Pole about the first of next August. Preparations are going on for this flight. It is probable that Wellman will make a success of this time. He will start from Spitzbergen, which is about 600 miles from the Pole. If in making the voyage he returns to Spitzbergen or goes that far beyond, he will have traveled about 1200.

That is not an impossible feat. Count Zeppelin recently traveled about 900 miles and might have made a hundred or two more if he had not struck a tree. There is no reason why Wellman should not do as well, if not better. For there has been vast improvement in aeronautics since Wellman tried it before. His present experiment will be watched with deep interest because the success of it may be expected. If Wellman does not succeed with his style of dirigible, he should buy one of the Wrights' improved aeroplanes, should he return, and try it in that.

It is reported that the Wrights are talking of crossing the ocean in one, in the near future.

This is the day when anything the mind dreams eventually come real, and it is only fair to trust that human in secunity will succeed at last in perfecting loomotion through the air for all purposes—travel, transportation and discovery.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The fruit crop promises well in this district.

The Stirling, Methodist Sunday School have made arrangements to hold a pic-nic at Oak Hill Lake on July 1st.

Some farmers state that the hay crop will be light on account of too little rain the latter part of May and the first half of June.

A baseball match between Stirling and Marmora teams will be played at the Park to-morrow afternoon. Game o be called at 4.80 sharp.

The ladies of St. Andrew's congrega-tion have fixed upon July 23rd as the data for their annual Lawn Social. Look for particulars later.

July 14th is the date set for the lawn ocial on the Public School grounds inder the auspices of the Epworth eague of the Methodist church.

The General Assembly of the Presby-terian Church has set June 27th as Patriotic" Sunday, and in most of the thurches the morning service will be of the character suggested,

In addition to all the good things promised for the social at Bethel to-morrow evening, the committee of management have secured a supply of strawberries. Double ticket 25c., single 15c., children 10c.

Wednesday Afternoon Holiday

Wednesday Afternoon Holiday
The agitation that has been on foot for sometime, to have a half holiday once a week during the hot summer months, has culminated in a unanimous decision on the part of all merchants and business men in our village to close their stores and places of business but wednesday afternoon at one o'clock sharp during the months of July and August.
Two of our citizens canvassed the town to ascertain the feeling of the people and obtained the signatures of forty-nine business men of the town. Owing to the late hour at which the list was handed in we are unable to publish it in this issue.

His Work Appreciated

The session and congregation of St. Andrew's church, Stirling, has received from the General Assembly's Committee on Evangelism a letter of thanks and appreciation of their kindness and self-denial in giving their pastor, Rev. F. A. Robinson, B. A., leave of absence for two months in compliances with their request to take part in the recent campaign in the Kootenay district. The letter says: "Your minister did a great work for Christ and the Church in the campaign, and the committee have thus discovered something of the splendid ability and consecration of talent, and peculiar fitness for such work, of your pastor. Most of the churches and missions have been doubled in membership, and some of them trebled, while all of them have been largely augmented. The missionaries and Christian workers have not only been augmented in numbers but have thange that yet thems and senselves heave not only been augmented in numbers but have thange that yet thems and started them and the sense that you can be senselved to the sense of them there have been augmented in mumbers but have than a greatly we have greatly much more efficient service. For all this we give God the glory and praise

To Remove from Stirling

Among the "Personal retems in The Globe of Saturday last we find the following:
 "Dr. James S. Sprague, who in Stirling, Ont., for thirty-six years has been continuously engaged in practice, will in July move to Perth, Ont. The doctor is well-known to the profession as author of "Medical Ethics and Cognate Subjects"; as an examiner from 1908 author 1907 in mat. med. and pharm. for the College of Physicians and Surgeons; as a late examiner in medical jurisprudence, Trinity University, and as a frequent contributor to Canadian Practitioner and Review, to Canadia Lancet, to Dominion Medical Monthly, and to Medical Times of N. Y., and to other United States medical journals, not least, the author of "Ideals in Medicine," to be published by Lippincott & Co. of Philadelphia during 1909."

The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Sprague in Stirling will sincerely regret their removal from our midst.

A Sure Corrective of Flatulency.

When the undigested food lies in the stomach it throws off gases causing pains and oppression in the stomachic region. The belching or eructation of these gases is offensive and the only way to prevent them is to restore the stomach to proper action. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do this. Simple directions go with each packet, and a course of them taken systematically is certain to effect a cure.

SHIELDED BY SAND.

SHIELDED BY SAND.

During his extensive explorations in Central Asia, Dr. M. A. Stein discovered in the desert northeast of Kashmir remains of human occupation, among which were many manuscript leaves in Chinese, Sanskirt, and the unknown language of Khotan, which had been preserved by the covering of sand blown over them, although the buildings that originally contained them had been destroyed. Remains of stuccorelievos and frescos, as well as panted panels, had also been similarly preserved under their covering of sand. Lord Curzon, speaking of the region explored by Doctor Stein, says: "The Greeks, the Indo-Scythians, the Chinese, all converge at this historical rendezvous, and the sand overlays the records of their marches and meetings with its kindly and protective mantle."

ROLE OF THE COCOANUT.

ROLE OF THE COCOANUT.

The Staff of Life to the Natives of Sea Washed Island.

It is more than a colneidence that the tree which furnishes a greater amount of available material to man than any other in the vast kingdom of vegetables is the first to spring up on the bare rocks of the newly arisen coral reef. The cocoanut, so formed that it may have floated halfway across the Pacific, is thus universally distributed throughout tropleal islands.

It thrives best near the sea, seldom penetrating far into the interior. Its hard shell is a coat of mall for the embryo plant, enabling it to stand hard usage for a protracted period and locking up securely the precious life in miniature.

The fibrous husk which envelops it and is seldom seen on the market on account of the greatly increased bulk breaks the jar which would be inevitable should the hard nut fall unprotected from the tall tree to the ground sixty or inlety feet below.

Such a blow would scarcely fall to break the shell, occasioning the loss of the nourishing milk so necessary to the sperm. The outer husk not only breaks the jar of a fall, but buops it up on the water, while the tough outer cuticle is waterproof.

Thus is the tree which offers to man almost in the raw state all his necessities freely scattered where the warm seas and their borders offer a fooding, and from it the humble native secures usugar, milk, butter, wine, vinegar, oil, candles, soap, cups, indies, cordage, matting, thatch for roof and material for raiment, combining food, clothing and shelter in a single giff, continually making waste places habitable.—New Age.

OPENING THE VISITOR'S EVES.

Briton Found That He Had Underrated Canadian Cities.

"Not bad little houses for the colonies," said Mr. James R. Motion. Inspector of the Poor and Clerk of the Parish Council of Glasgow, the of the Walker House, Toronto, met him at Halifax and took him for a drive around the city. Mr. Wright played "possum"; he lay low.

At Montreal Mr. Motion was vastly impressed by the architecture. Again did Mr. Wright belief his time.

Then Mr. Motion came on to Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Wright as their guest, Mrs. Wright being pissincee. Mr. Wright had laughed softly to himself once or twice on the way to Toronto, but Mr. Motion hadn't known the cause of the levity.
